Château Bourbon La Chapelle 2008 Médoc

PRESENTATION

Château Bourbon La Chapelle is the second property of Château Castera, produced from the fruit of the same vines. The predominantly clay-limestone terroir is topped by a thin layer of Pyrenees gravel.

The grapes are subjected to a rigorous selection process on our sorting tables. A moderate extraction process allows us to obtain supple tannins which, combined with a relatively short maceration, produce an exceptionally fruity wine.

Château Bourbon La Chapelle is matured in wood for 6 months. This process infuses the wine with a discreet, elegant touch of wood and allows the fruit to express its full potential.

GRAPE VARIETIES

60% Cabernet Sauvignon - 40% Merlot

TASTING NOTES

Château Bourbon La Chapelle 2008 boasts an attractive, scarlet colour with flashes of light.

The nose is fruity, with a gratifying aromatic intensity and a light hint of wood in the background.

On the palate the attack is forthright and enjoyable. The supple tannins leave plenty of room for the red fruit aromas to express themselves.

Ready to enjoy right away, Château Bourbon La Chapelle is a light, supple and enjoyable wine which will provide a perfect partner for aperitifs or grilled meats.

A young and sustained red color. Red ripe fruits almost jam. In mouth, it is a well structured, powerful and generous wine. We can open it with a rib of beef or game.
